Sam Siegel Brings Cheer To Hundreds Of Children

In the many communities where the Henry I. Siegel Company operates garment factories, its residents benefit all through the year from the vast public relations program of the firm. Christmastime is no exception, only it's more so.

For this is the time when Sam Siegel, the father of four children, counts his blessings in remembering hundreds of children all over the territory by giving them warm clothing. Jackets in all fabrics and colors; pants in all shades and sizes, shirts in all styles and patterns are sent to the Mayors and school officials of the various communities to be distributed to those youngsters whose names have been submitted by school authorities.

Last week the Mayors of the twin cities, school principals and Sam's close friend Bob White, gathered at the South Fulton City Hall to receive the gifts of clothing designated for the schools. The story is told here in pictures.

Glenn Fuskett, manager of the Fulton Siegel plant, shares with Mayor Gilbert DeMyer the pleasure that comes with giving. Standing are Bob White and Mansfield Martin, principal of Fulton High School.

Bob White, who has served as Sam Siegel's personal representative in local affairs for many years, is shown here with Mrs. H. B. Vanderford who received a shipment of clothing for students in South Fulton East, where she is principal.

Mrs. Campbell's Mother Dies In Cairo Sunday

Fulton friends of Mrs. Presley Campbell will regret to learn of the death of her mother, Mrs. Annie M. Vowels in St. Mary's Hospital in Cairo, Illinois. Mrs. Vowels died Sunday after a long illness.

Funeral services will be today (Wednesday) at St. Patrick's Church in Cairo. The body is at the Berbling Funeral Home.

Notebook

It's like I said, the frenzy of December should be spread around all year. That way our Christmas greeting to you would be fresh, and vigorous, and exciting, and . . . you know what we mean. T. C. Taylor, Joe Weeks, Burnis Killebrew, Annabelle Edwards, Paul and I want to say thank you for all the nice things you've sent our way . . . and for just being such good, patient newspaper readers.

Have fun . . . have a merry Christmas! With a little rest we'll tell you the warmest Christmas story we've ever heard. But we're tired than Santa Claus.

FANNED BY HIGH WINDS, fire engulfed homes one by one, ascending down the slope, finally being checked as it burned through the house at left owned by the Lemasters.

Seven Families Homeless In Twin Cities Worst Fire

A bitterly cold, December north wind, picked up a roaring blaze that started in a hill-top apartment house and brought tragedy to seven families in three residences, early last Friday morning. Completely destroyed was a four-apartment building; the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bard, and a home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank LeMaster and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cole. The loss, which left all families homeless and completely destroyed the household and all personal belongings of the victims, was estimated at $100,000.00. It was believed the worst fire in the history of the twin cities.

Five persons were sent to Fulton Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Randall, occupants in one of the four apartments in the building and Mr. and Mrs. Bard, were hospitalized for observation. The Bards are now at the home of Mrs. Sara Stille.

Churches, civic and cultural groups and friends rallied immediately to assist the victims, all of whom escaped from the roaring fire with only the clothes they were wearing. Only in a few instances were the belongings covered by insurance.

The apartment building, which was owned by Mrs. Lera Weatherpoon and Mrs. Sally Wade, who are sisters, caught on fire in the basement. Mrs. Annabelle Edwards, who lived in the building, said that she heard a crackling sound in the basement about midnight but when she investigated she could not find anything wrong. She was awakened later when she smelled smoke in her room and she then began awakening other residents of the building.

The fire, discovered about 1:30 a. m., swept swiftly through the building, and when firemen arrived the entire basement was in flames.

Mrs. Maudie Cruse, who rents one of the apartments, was in De-

Spirit Of Christmas Rules In Twin City Celebrations; Merchants Close Saturday

It's Christmas time! Everywhere, glad sights and sounds reflect the spirit of the season, as this community celebrates the joyous holiday.

The spirit of Christmas is seen, in gaily decorated streets and stores, in homes aglow with light and festive with evergreens, in churches where the manger scene tells anew the wonderful old story of a holy Babe who was born in Bethlehem nearly two thousand years ago.

The spirit of Christmas is heard in bells ringing out from street corner to steeple, in happy voices singing all the songs of the season, from old familiar carols to the more solemn, but at the same time joyful, anthems, cantatas and oratorios.

The spirit of Christmas is felt, as last minute preparations for the big celebration are made. There are always, it seems, some packages still to be wrapped, some final trimmings to be put on the tree, some part of the Christmas pageant or choral program that needs just one more rehearsal, some extra touches to make the Christmas feast absolutely perfect.

In the midst of the hustle and bustle, the spirit of Christmas shines through in all its many meanings.

The spirit of Christmas means laughter and joy—best expressed, perhaps, by the faces of children, eager and smiling as they wait for Santa, full of reverent wonder as they hear the Christmas story and see the manger scene.

The spirit of Christmas means giving, with love wrapped into every package. And it means sharing—the riches of thoughtful consideration and genuine interest, as well as time and money—with the aged, the ill, the needy and unfortunate.

The spirit of Christmas means a warm renewal of family ties and close friendships, and an enjoyment of traditions treasured through the years—the special customs each family creates for itself, as well as the traditions garnered from the lore and legends of Christmas.

Naming the Day

As a holy day and a holiday Christmas means both prayerful worship and festive merry making. The holy meaning of the day is expressed in its name.

Fulton Students Write Winning Soil Essays

A total of 717 essays from six Fulton County Schools were submitted in the 1964 Soil Conservation contest. Charles E. Wright chairman said today in announcing the names of the thirteen students who wrote the winning entries. Four of the winners are students at Fulton City School.

The best Freshman essay was written by Mary Jo Westpheling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling. Freshman runner-up was Stanley Watts, of Fulton County High School.

Steve Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Lloyd Jones wrote the best essay in the sophomore class. Placing second was Steve Fields of Fulton County High.

In the junior class competition Wayne Lohaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lohaus placed second and in the Senior class Betty Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robert Bennett also placed second. Winners in the Junior and senior classes were Donald Everett and Jennifer Burcham, respectively, both of Fulton County High School.

First place county winner is Jennifer Burcham. Second place county winner is Donald Everett. Jennifer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Burcham, Hickman. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Everett of Hickman.

These two essays will be sent to The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky, to be judged in the State contest.

Other county winners by grades are as follows:

Five-Year Old Dies Instantly From Accident

Jerry Hill, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgie Hill, was killed instantly about 12:15 Tuesday afternoon when he ran into the path of a car at the intersection of Kentucky highway 94 and U. S. highway 51. The west bound car that struck the boy was driven by Ron M. Taylor of Crutchfield Rt. 1. An eye witness to the holiday tragedy reported to Sheriff Joe Campbell that the child ran across the road into the path of an east-bound automobile, which had stopped when the child was sighted. The witness said the child ran around to the rear of the parked car, and was hit by a westbound car driven by Mr. Taylor.

The child, one of several children in the Hill family, was rushed to the Fulton Hospital where Dr. Bob Peterson pronounced him dead on arrival. No charges have been filed against Mr. Taylor. An eye witness said the accident was unavoidable. The Hills live near Vaughn's Grocery, at the intersection known as the "Y". The body is at the Hornbeak Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements were incomplete at press time on Tuesday. The staff and management of the News extend deep sympathy to family of little Jerry.

No Need To Write Of Jaycee Party, Faces Tell The Story

Pictures Speak A Warm Story Of Christmas

The pictures below, taken at the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, need no lofty words to identify the event. Shown are some of the hundreds of young people you made happy by your contributions to the annual Jaycee Charity Radio Marathon, when more than $1300 was collected from generous listeners.

However, the party for the children, with hamburgers, soft drinks and all the trimmings, is only a part of the massive Christmas-giving program by the Jaycees. On Christmas morning, dozens of families will feast from food contained in the bountiful baskets of foods the Jaycees packed for needed families in the area. The radio contributions, together with funds from the treasury, financed the undertaking, which cost more than $1400.

Christmas Marks The Eve Of Another Year And The Dawn Of A New And Hopeful Life

Christmas is a season of beauty and color. It is seen in fellowship, good will, colorful store decorations, happy faces of children.

It means all of this and more.

Christmas marks the eve of another year and the dawn of a new one. It is a time when we reassess our accomplishments and set our sights on next year's goals.

We've met many challenges during the past months. Thanks to a deep sense of service to others, these challenges have resulted in a year of progress and good will.

This good will is particularly stressed during the Holiday Season. And rightly so. It is seen in the spirit of Christmas giving and the warm glow of family and friend relationships.

We are reasonably certain as we enter the New Year we'll continue to meet new challenges successfully mainly because of our work which is reflected by the good will and personal expression we put into our jobs.

So, let us rejoice during this Christmas Season. And as we prepare to enter the gay round of festive holiday celebrations, let us feel the warmth that comes from having marked the true spirit of Christmas, not only this month, but during the whole year.

Recently it was our good fortune to read for the first time a beautiful Christmas wish in the form of a prayer. It was written nearly 500 years ago, but it is as fresh as tomorrow. The author, Fra Giovanni, lived from 1387 to 1455.

May we share it with you, as our best wish for each reader of this column:

"There is nothing I can give you which you have not; but there is much that - while I cannot give you - you can take.

No Heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. TAKE HEAVEN.

No peace lies in the future that is not hidden in this present instant. TAKE PEACE.

The gloom of the world is but a shadow; behind it - yet within reach - is joy. TAKE JOY.

And so at this Christmas time - I greet you - with the prayer that for you - now and forever - the day breaks and the shadows flee away."

When People Long For Old - Fashioned Christmas, Remind Them That The Puritans Complained Too!

"Tis the season to be jolly." But then there are minority opinions on everything. Plenty of folks are complaining that Christmas isn't what it used to be. They say stacks of Christmas cards, frantic last-minute shopping, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" on the TV, and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" on the stereo don't make a Christmas.

"We've got to get back to the old-fashioned Christmas," they cry.

But we'd better not go back too far. To put it bluntly, the Puritans were against Christmas. They labeled it a "wonton Bacchanalian feast" and spent their first Christmas on these shores pointedly rejecting joy and doing carpentry. On the second Christmas several "lusty young men" who were found "pitching ye barr, playing at stool-ball and such like sports" in the public streets caught what-for from Governor Bradford, in person. So the oldest of old-fashioned American Christmas was hardly do for a precedent to be followed in 1965.

By 1827, however, Christmas had evolved to the point that an Episcopalian bishop was complaining, "The devil has stolen from us . . . Christmas, the day of our spiritual redemption and converted it into a day of worldly festivity, shooting and swearing."

And by 1876 The Youth's Companion, a popular magazine of the time, was lamenting the passing of the old-fashioned English Christmas:

"We in America have received many, if not most, of our Christmas customs from our parent country, 'merrie England' but in England Christmas is no longer the day of games and fine old traditional ceremonies it once was. It is rarely that the yule log is burned nowadays . . . and whereas the Christmas game, in the times of good Queen Bess, lasted for more than a month, a week is all the modern, money-making English can devote to it."

Could it be then that this perennial dissatisfaction with present customs and longing for "the old-fashioned Christmas" merely shows the power of this season to evoke nostalgic memories of happy childhood, bygone pleasures, and the joys of Christmases past . . . the exchange of greetings, the singing of carols, the tree, mistletoe, the festive meal, and the outdoor fun? One last dip into the yellowed, crumbling pages of The Youth's Companion gives an even better reason to wish for a simple celebration of Christmas.

"It is right for us to derive all the innocent pleasure possible from the happy season, not forgetting, the while, how solemn and glorious is the event which we thus joyously commemorate, with its beautiful lesson of Love to our fellow man."

CHRISTUS CONSOLATOR

Beside the dead I knelt for prayer and felt a presence as I prayed.
Lo! 'twas the Master standing there. He smiled: "Be not afraid!"
Lord, thou hast conquered death, we know; Restore again to life, I said,
This one who died an hour ago. He smiled: "He is not dead!"
"Asleep, then, as thyself didst say: Yet thou canst lift lids that keep His prisoned eyes from ours away! He smiled: "He doth not sleep."
"Nay then tho haply He do wake and look upon some fairer dawn, Restore him to our hearts that ache!" He smiled: "He is not gone!"
"Alas! too well we know our loss Nor hope again our joy to touch, Until the stream of death we cross." He smiled: "There is no such."
"Yet our beloved seem so far The while we yearn to feel them near Albeit with thee we trust they are." He smiled: "And I am here!"
"Dear Lord, how shall we know that they Still walk unseen with us and thee Nor sleep nor wander far away." He smiled: "Abide in me."

Turning Back The Clock-

December 29, 1964

Will Holman, well-known business man of this city, has purchased one-half interest in the Atkins Insurance Agency, effective January 1. Then he will take charge as manager of the local insurance firm. For 25 years Mr. Holman operated a grocery and service station on the Martin highway in South Fulton. He has sold this business to Mrs. Ada Roach and Milton Counce.

Raymond Gambill, for many years connected with Baldridge's in this city, but more recently with Kroger Grocery in Union City, has purchased the Coffee Shop on Main Street from Mr. Coulter. He is now at his place of business and will welcome his friends.

A lovely wedding took place on December 16 in St. Paul's Methodist Church in Abilene, Texas, when Miss Laverne Burnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Burnette, of Fulton, became the bride of Cpl. Elmer Hixson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hixson of Lexington, Ky. The Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of St. Paul's Church, officiated. After a short wedding trip, Mrs. Hixson will return to Fulton for a few days visit with her parents before returning to Madisonville, where she is employed as home demonstration agent. Cpl. Hixson will receive his new assignment soon, being transferred from Camp Barkley, Texas.

Mrs. Allen Austin, on Cedar Street, entertained members of the Sunny Hour Club with a six o'clock dinner and Christmas party on December 21. Covers were laid for twenty at card tables in the living room, and a delightful dinner was enjoyed. Gifts were brought by members for the service men's tree at the Fulton Service Center.

Mrs. Hugh Pigue on Fourth Street, entertained members of her bridge club on December 22. After a delightful supper was served, games were enjoyed with Mrs. Elizabeth Snow winning high score.

Members and guests of the Sophomore class of South Fulton school enjoyed a delightful party on December 21 at the school gym. Games were played and comic gifts exchanged. Mr. Covington, the class sponsor, was presented a gift after the social hour.

Little Brenda Joyce Gill, of the Beelerton community, received a doll last week from her father, Sgt. Buford Gill, who is in military service somewhere over seas. It was sent in September.

Sports Final

K. Paul Westphaling, III

The Fulton Bulldogs lost for the fourth time straight. They lost to the Fancy Farm Gophers 60-59, in a double over time game which proved very nerve-racking for Coach Virgil Yates. This victory meant the 3rd win of the season for Fancy Farm. The Bulldogs outclassed the Gophers and it looked as though the Bulldogs had the game in the bag when the fateful third period came to be. The Bulldogs went into the dressing room at half time with a 37-29 lead. Even the third quarter the Bulldogs had a six point lead. But then the roof fell on. To start off the frenzy, James Hurt fouled out in the third quarter. Then Greg Williamson, one of the starters, also fouled out in the fourth quarter. Fulton's team spirit seemed to be all but gone. Slowly but surely, the Gophers crept up from behind and tied the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs missed shot after shot and the Golden Gophers somehow found their mark.

Everyone in the gym was sure that the Bulldogs would pull ahead, but as one basket was made, they would make another one. The first overtime went by with only four points being made by both teams.

Every one was in a panic. The second overtime started, and the Bulldogs pushed by one point ahead of the Gophers. With seconds remaining in the game Fulton made a bad pass and that was all she wrote. The Fancy Farm player grabbed the pass and raced in for the crisp shot to win the game.

By this time the Bulldogs would try anything to get the ball, but this was of no avail. The Gophers froze the ball and the clock ran out.

David Mann lead the scoring for Fulton City with 22 points.

James Hurt lead with 17 rebounds. The final once a pass, Fulton City 59, Fancy Farm 60 (two overtimes).

LETTERS TO SANTA

"From The FHS Keneel"
Dear Santa,

First of all I want to apologize for what happened last year. Honestly, when I put the burglar alarm in the chimney, I didn't mean any harm. I was asleep when it went off, but Daddy told me about the bad first degree burns. I'm really sorry about that.

I've decided to repent for all my misdoings this year by giving to others instead of asking for myself. But then there is this financial problem—so if you would please bring these things to my house, I will see that they are delivered to those less fortunate than I.

My first request is for my dear-ly beloved English teacher, Mrs. Marchman, who has struggled trying to instill knowledge in her pupils' unlearned minds. Bring her another giant turnip (so that she may have something to eat for Christmas dinner) to match the one our class gave her as a token of our gratefulness.

Another pitiful situation is that our two most devoted teachers, Mr. Snider and Mr. Sensing have to walk to and from school every day in the cold winter winds. So for them, please bring a bicycle-built-for-two and two warm pairs of earmuffs.

And, of course, I couldn't forget my poor, unfortunate history teacher, Mrs. Varden. She has to jump three feet off the floor to reach those maps hanging on the wall. So if you have time to make up some new kind of miracle drug, it would be greatly appreciated. Besides this dreadful illness, she has cuts and bruises as a result of walking down the hall in the opposite direction of an over-enthusiastic gang of teenagers. So also bring a suit of armor to protect her from further wounds, and a spear so that she can stab anyone who tries to assault her again.

The tears are blinding my eyes so, I can hardly see this page. At times like this I am really ashamed for all the mean things we have done to these under-privileged people.

I feel much better knowing that I am "giving" this Christmas instead of getting. To think that I will be forfeiting all my gifts for others is a heartwarming experience. No sir, there will be no gifts for me—no waking up early to run and discover all my beautiful new things—no fun opening big mysterious-looking packages.

Uh—Santa? Could you by any chance recommend a good psychiatrist???

Your little friend
Carole Pigue

Dear Santa,

If you've ever attended classes at Fulton High in the winter months when it is 10 above zero outside and 25 below zero inside you'll remember how Mr. Martin saves our fuel supply for future years. By the time he decides to use it Mr. Snider, our dear, sweet, loveable, and kind chemistry teacher will be needing it to prepare one of those smelly experiments and, and we students will never thaw out.

Mr. Santa, it sure would be nice if you brought our principal, Mr. Martin, five tons of No. 1 coal. Just think of all the students who would be brought to life once again. Santa, with five tons of No. 1 coal, around 200 lives would be saved. Won't you please help us?

Don't forget all the other teachers at F. H. S. and also try to remember the sweet little students who never do anything wrong. Oh! also don't forget the ones who never do anything right.

I'll be looking for you December 25, so don't forget to come!

I Love You

Dear Santa,

I am a normal red-blooded American girl who wants a Beatle for Christmas this year, along with perhaps three million other girls. I had thought of asking for a radio with a station that played only Beatle records, but the idea of a real live Beatle is simple much more dreamy . . . Oh, I simply can't wait to find HIM under my tree Christmas Morning!

Please don't forget Mrs. Varden this Christmas, Santa. You simply must bring her a genuine thing-a-ma-jig, da-ma-doger to loosen the what-cha-ma-callit to get heat in history class. Not only she, but all her students will be terribly grateful.

And don't forget dear and wonderful Mrs. Marchman. She's a kind old soul. Bring her anything her heart desires—which may include permission to use stencils instead of dittoes on all her tests and maybe a tranquilizer she can take on our very first mention of onions. Seems she's even allergic to the word.

Lastly bring a surprise to Mrs. Robertson. It seems nothing we do can really surprise her. She's a "surpriseless" person!

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

The Latin name for Christmas translates as the Feast or Birthday of Our Lord. The English Christmas means the Mass of Christ, a meaning which is closely paralleled by the Dutch "Kermis." In German it's "Weihnacht," or sacred night.

The French "Noel" has several possible meanings — news, birthday or a "shout of joy." Whatever the exact origin, there's no question that Noel now means Christmas.

How the Tree Grew

When the German prince Alfred married Queen Victoria, he carried the custom of the Yule tree to England, and from there it spread by imitation and immigration to the United States and Canada.

The German origin is appropriate, since it was in Germany that the English missionary St. Boniface, formerly a monk named Winfrid, first instituted the decorated fir tree, a tribute to the Christ Child, as a replacement for the sacrifices made to the oak, which was sacred to the pagan god Odin.

When Caroling Began

With the joyful strains of "Silent Night," "The First Noel" and other beloved carols, today's carolers carry on meaningful Christmas custom that originated centuries ago.

As early as the fourth century A. D., a musical poem was sung in honor of St. Basil and his victory in the fight for Christianity over the byzantine emperor Julian. In Greece, legends of St. Basil were later put to music and sung at Christmas and the New Year.

The first real Christmas carols, however, were probably sung in the Italian mountain village of Greccio when St. Francis of Assisi created the first manger scene in 1223. He and his brethren led the villagers in singing hymns of praise to the Christ Child.

Source of Giving

season has many precedents. In the years before Christ, Romans gave branches of laurel, olive and myrtle to each other at the Saturnalia, a pagan festival that occurred about the same time as the present date of Christmas. In England and Northern Europe, Druid worshippers tied gifts on trees during the Yule festival held at the winter solstice.

Roman emperors often demanded Yule gifts of clothing, gold and silver from their kinds and queens of medieval England. It is said that Queen Elizabeth I gained most of her wardrobe through these compulsory gifts.

In later years the idea of giving in a spirit of kind-hearted generosity developed.

Letters To Santa

"From The FIVE Kennel"

Dear Santa Claus,

I would like you to bring me a bicycle, dump truck, Rodkem Sockem Robot, gun and holster, fire truck and a little red wagon. Don't forget my teacher Miss Allen. Bring her a little something; she's been a good little girl. Don't forget all the other little girls and boys.

John Doe (Red)

P. S. Please bring me a girl friend. Either Rita or Roma.

(Editors' Note - Don't worry, boys and girls, you don't have to write your letter again. We're sending a copy of the Kennel to Santa immediately!)

Dear Santa,

I guess it is about that time again. I am sure that you have received many letters from your Fulton High friends. I don't want anything much for myself. I just want a yellow Mustang. I wish that you would bring Mrs. Varden a purple Mustang. This would make her very happy and then we could call the purple dog killer. You know that she hit four dogs in the last year. And Santa please bring Mr. Brown a new baton. Please bring him one that won't break and won't hurt when he hits me on the head. He has broken three already this year. Oh, Santa we can't forget Miss Allen. She wants a Cadillac convertible and some black hose. They cost 50 cents a pair at Sears. Well Santa I guess this is all that I want for Christmas.

Urge Caution In Handling Christmas Tree

A word of caution has been issued to Christmas tree buyers and trimmers in an attempt to prevent fire hazards during the Christmas season. Harold Foster, director of the fire prevention division of the State Department of Public Safety, said, "Every year, tragedy strikes families in Kentucky because of pure negligence. The selection, trimming, and care of a Christmas tree can make the difference in a happy holiday season and death, injury, and destruction."

Listing things to do, not to do, and tips to remember during the Christmas holidays, Foster offered the following list of recommendations:

When picking out a tree, choose a fresh one. Saw off the butt at an angle an inch or more above the original cut. Stand the tree in water from the time you buy it until you dispose of it. Don't rely on self-applied chemical preparations to "flame-proof" your tree—none is truly effective. (Trees commercially treated with UL-listed fire retardant compounds are satisfactory.) Set the tree away from radiators or fireplace, and never where it might block your escape in case of fire.

If you choose a plastic tree, be sure it is marked as made of slow-burning materials. If it has a built-in lighting system, it should carry the Underwriters' Laboratories label.

Metal trees will conduct electricity, so use only indirect lighting. Lighting strings on the tree may create a dangerous shock hazard.

Decorative lighting should be used with care. Check lighting strings before using for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Never use wax candles on or near the tree, or with polystyrene foam candle holders or decorations. Turn off tree and other decorative lighting before retiring or leaving the house.

For outdoor lighting, use only sets listed for outdoor use by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

Use noncombustible decorating materials (metal, glass, asbestos, etc.) wherever possible. If combustible, like cotton batting flocking paper and polystyrene foam—be sure they are "flame-proofed."

Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely. Do not allow them to accumulate.

Do not smoke near the tree.

Of most importance, plan in advance alternate means of escape should fire occur. Make sure everyone is safely out of the building and call the fire department as quickly as possible.

Your Wisest investment of time... REGULAR CHURCH WORSHIP

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

Take a Second Look

On your first look, you may think that this little girl is riding a rocking horse, but look again. It is not a rocking horse but a little donkey.

About animals now, and children. Donkeys were one of the first animals to be tamed by man, and are gentle animals when they are not practicing the quality of being stubborn.

The quality of gentleness somehow reminds us of our Saviour, the Wonderful One.

Parents, teach your children about Jesus, who admonished us to let the little children come unto Him. Our Lord would remind us that the little ones are precious to the Father. We invite you to take the children to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for men and of His demand for men to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Kentucky's State Parks Enjoy Best Season In 16-Year History

Kentucky's State park system has enjoyed the best year in its 16-year history in all phases of operation.

State Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell, in a report to Governor Edward T. Breathitt, stated that attendance of approximately 14 million visitors to the parks bettered by three million the previous record established in 1963.

Receipts of some $5 million at the 34 State parks and shrines topped the previous year by $1 million.

In addition, tent and trailer visitations were almost double the 1963 total.

Another happy feature, according to Bell, was that occupancy percentage—rooms and cottages reserved of the total available—"for the main vacation months was the best in the State parks' history."

"The chief reason for this," Bell pointed out, "was our new Central Reservation Service. Direct connections to all vacation parks and between parks made it possible to recommend other similar facilities when one park was full."

During June, July, and August, the vacation-type parks were fully booked. In March, April, May, September, October, and November, however, some of the vacation parks had vacancies.

Bell said that a depth study now being made by Spindletop Research Center, Lexington, is determining ways to extend the State park operating season with "acceptable occupancy rates."

New resort lodges were opened this year at Natural Bridge State Park, near Slade, and Buckhorn Lake State Park, in Perry County near Hazard. These were the last major projects of a $20 million parks expansion program started in 1961.

In October of this year 3,600 acres of shoreline property for two new State parks at Barkley Lake and Barren River reservoirs were leased free to the State by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on a long-term basis.

The proposed bond issue of 1965, if approved, will provide funds for resort-type development of these parks, Bell said.

Bell's report also pointed out that for the first time in the history of outdoor recreation and State park development, Federal funds are available on a 50-50 matching basis for planning, acquisition, and development. President Johnson on September 3, 1964, signed into law the Land and Water Conservation Act making this possible.

From Kentucky's standpoint, this means the possibility of doubling the $4,500,000 proposed for the parks in the bond issue. And in addition to large-scale developments at Barkley and Barren reservoirs, the matching funds under the new act could help throughout the remainder of Kentucky's State park system.

GERMAN HOUSING NEAR FULL SUPPLY

Bonn — Construction in Germany has just about overcome the home shortage caused by war destruction of a fifth of all dwellings. Between 1949 and 1963 Germany built seven-million housing units—a record average of 10.3 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Merry Christmas Everybody

BOONESBOROUGH IMPROVEMENTS—A picnic shelter with restrooms is one of the new day-use facilities recently constructed at Boonesborough State Park, now being developed by the State on the Kentucky River between Richmond and Winchester. Another picnic shelter and a camping area service building have also been added and a new boat dock and launching ramp, driveways and a paved parking area have been built. The 85-acre park just off U.S. 227 on the Madison County side of the river is near the site where Daniel Boone and his companions in 1775 established Fort Boonesborough. The park's natural sand beach area will also be graded, a new walkway to the beach will be constructed and the bath-house will be remodeled. Other areas have been sodded and seeded.

In the happy spirit of the Christmas season, we send sincerest greetings to our loyal friends and customers, with hearty thanks for their patronage.

Discus- on the Farm

With JIM PRYOR

Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

Keep Farm Machinery Young

One of the most important jobs on the farm is the care of farm equipment not being used. Thousands of dollars are being rusted away each season on farms here in Western Kentucky and Southern Illinois. As the different tools complete their jobs each season, they should be cleaned and in the fall, winterized. This will not only save money, but stop many headaches before they start. I would like to give a few hints today for your consideration. First of all, it is considered much better to paint bright surfaces such as snouts on a corn picker that is mounted than to grease it, because the greased surface is dirty and troublesome to mount. It is, however, better to grease the part than let it rust. Next, be sure to grease all bearings before machinery is stored, to keep moisture out thus preventing excessive rusting. Loosen tension on all 'V' belts and if on hand, use a rubber lubricant, otherwise leave them dry. Drain the fuel tank and carburetor before storage or fill the tank. This will depend largely on whether the machine in question is to be used during the winter months. The reason for this moisture forms in the tank and you have trouble, you could have a line freeze and lose what fuel is in the tank at the time. Moisture will not form in a full tank. If you do not plan to use the machine during the winter, I would advise complete drainage. It goes without saying blocks and radiators that have no anti-freeze should always be drained after use. This is very important as freezing can be costly. Now then for the fertilizer applicators: wash thoroughly with water, warm if possible, and let dry. Next rinse with a 50-50 solution of kerosene and used oil. The kerosene will carry the oil into cracks and hard to get to places then evaporate . . . leaving the oil as a rust proof coating. It will be thin enough that it will not give you any trouble when you are ready for work next plowing season.

I have seen a lot of expensive farm machinery under trees lately. Now the only way a tree can give protection in the winter, is have it sawed into boards and build a shed. If you have no storage for the tractor, a tarpaulin will give some protection. It would be far more profitable to store the tractor under cover than the family auto since the car is protected throughout the body for all weather driving and can withstand severe weather conditions much better than a tractor or machine.

There are many other items I could discuss, but once you get started on your winterizing program you will see them as you progress down the check-off list. Do not let another winter find you with a shade tree shed, an ice storm could prune a large limb on a tractor and spoil months of profit.

Fulton County Agent's News

JOHN WATTS

Inasmuch as hog numbers are down and prices are expected to be good next year, farmers should make plans now for the next years production. Dr. John Robinson, U. K. Agricultural Extension Service Swine Specialist, points out some rules to follow.

(1) Four pigs to each linear foot of feeder or self-feeder aperture. More than four pigs, tail-biting and cannibalism may occur; fewer than four may cause feed wastage.

(2) For confined pigs, 12 to 15 square feet per pig. At least half of this should be under root and draft-free.

(3) For legume pastures in average condition, 20 to 25 pigs an acre.

(4) For automatic waterers, two openings for each 50 pigs. Minimum capacity of the waterers should be 2.5 gallons in summer and 1.5 in winter for each pig.

(5) Never run more than 50 pigs together. Higher than this feed-efficiency figures suffer.

Breathitt Looking Ahead For State's Progress; Master Plan To Be Devised

Development of a master plan to guide Kentucky's future for the next 10 to 20 years is under way.

Announcement of the project was made last week by Governor Edward T. Breathitt at a news conference marking his first anniversary in office.

Breathitt named eight members of his cabinet to the planning committee and said he will serve as chairman. A meeting of the committee is scheduled soon. It consists of:

Dr. Harry Sparks, superintendent of public instruction, and these state commissioners—Felix Joyner, finance; Henry Ward, highways; Robert Bell, park; J. O. Matlick, natural resources; James E. Luckett, revenue; Katherine Peden, commerce; Cattie Lou Miller, public information.

Adjutant General Arthur Y. Lloyd was named special adviser to the committee and Joyner its secretary.

Breathitt said Kentucky already is looking to the future by proposing a new constitution, by proposing a bond issue for roads and capital construction and by other proposals, but said he believes that:

"We must go far beyond these measures if we are to be certain that Kentucky's future is all we want it to be for ourselves and for our children."

"I believe that we must — through study and hard work — develop a master plan for the Commonwealth that will include all present planning, that will coordinate it and add to it planning that concerns other activities and other functions."

Within a few years, Breathitt said, the population of the United States will reach the 250 and then the 300 million mark. He said that he hopes Kentucky, sharing in that growth, will be ready for it. He warned, however, that uncontrolled growth can become a greater problem than lack of growth.

Breathitt added it was his belief "that State Government should take the lead in planning the Kentucky of the future and that planning of future government functions and the future place of government within the Commonwealth is one of our greatest immediate needs."

The planning committee, Breathitt said, will take the lead in planning and will set up the mechanics for a planning effort that will include many citizens outside State Government.

Breathitt named the Department of Finance to serve as co-ordinating agency for the planning committee, noting that Federal funds for planning will be channeled through this department. He also said the Department of Finance would administer the plan.

Kentucky Youth To Appear On National TV

Science awards earned in Kentucky and Indiana will put 17-year-old Darrell Posey of Henderson, Ky. before a nationwide television audience here.

The youth has been chosen to appear on Honeywell's ABC-TV network "Science All Stars" program, which honors young people from across the U. S. who have demonstrated outstanding talents in science or engineering.

Posey, the second Kentuckian selected by the program, is known to his friends as the "ant man" for his award-winning studies in entomology. He was picked by "All Stars" after winning a first prize in the regional Science Fair at Evansville, Ind. He went on to collect another top award at the National Science Fair—International in Baltimore.

The young scientist's studies combine aspects of entomology and extreme-close-up photography to investigate and verify methods of communication that ants are believed to use.

He will be flown here next month to pre-record his television appearance for later broadcast. "Science All Stars" opens its second season Jan. 10 and will be seen Sundays at 5 p. m. (EST).

Prominent figures in science, education, government or military are featured on each program with the science-minded youngsters. Among these are space scientist Werner Von Braun, nuclear physicist Edward Teller and U. S. Ambassador to Japan Edwin O. Reischauer.

Seventeen-year-old Joan Keene of 204 East Flaget Avenue, Bardstons, is the other Kentucky youngster already chosen for the weekly TV series.

Garden Department Decorates Club Like Winter Wonderland For Meet

Christmas spirit from the heart and the hand motivated the members of the Garden Department of the Woman's Club last week when they transformed the club rooms into a winter wonderland for their meeting.

The room was resplendent with a Christmas tree, the decorations made by hand and contributed by the members. There were arrangements of greens, holly, poinsettia, and candles at focal points.

The chairman, Mrs. J. O. Lewis, expressed her appreciation to the committees, the hostesses, and the members who responded with such an attractive display of packages, gifts, and arrangements.

At the business session, Mrs. Lewis called attention to the book of recipes, "Favorite Recipes of Kentucky and Tennessee", sponsored by the Woman's Club. She suggested that anyone wanting a copy by Christmas turn their order in at once.

She then presented Peggy Reams and Letha Exum in a piano duo, "A Christmas Fantasy" by Kohlman.

Mrs. Earl Campbell, program leader, gave a number of suggestions as to what Christmas should be like and how it could be accomplished. Continuing she said in part:

Use what you have, but decorate. It is as important as hospitality; Get ready for next Christmas - shop early! Buy practical gifts. Don't try to do all your shopping in one day; Fill the house with music. Christmas without music is intolerable. Spend more time with your family. Give to some needy family.

Chairmen for display of packages and gifts were Mrs. S. M. DeMyer and Mrs. Harry Allison. On the decorating committee were Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. Norman Terry, Mrs. Fred Brady, Mrs. Hunter, Whitesell, Mrs. Warren Graham, Mrs. Leon Browder, Mrs. Roy Latta, Mrs. Clint Reed, Mrs. Rob Fowlkes, Mrs. W. B. Holman, and Mrs. Ray Graham.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Lewis poured coffee and the hostesses served cookies and sandwich loaf from a beautifully appointed table covered with a red Christmas cloth and centered with a Della Robbia topiary tree.

The hostesses were Mrs. Smith Atkins, Mrs. E. E. Pitman, Mrs. John Earle, Mrs. E. W. Hart, Mrs. F. D. Phillips and Mrs. Lawson Roper.

Dairy Industry Price Outlook To Be Talked

There will be a series of area meetings held during the month of January, 1965 for the producers of the Paducah Graded Milk Producers Association. These meetings are designed to be of help and to furnish information to the producer. One item of utmost importance to be discussed is the outlook in price.

All meetings will begin at 10:00 a. m. and will be dismissed by 2:00 p. m. The times and places are listed below.

January 12, 1965 — Murray, Ky. Student Union Building, Room 1, Murray College.

January 13, 1965 — Paducah, REA Building located on West Broadway.

January 20, 1965 — Paducah, Kentucky, County Courthouse Downstairs Assembly Room.

Sophomore Projects Relive Scenes From 'Miracle Worker' Production

"From The FHS Kennel"

Mrs. Marchman's sophomore English class recently studied William Gibson's play "The Miracle Worker," the story of Helen Keller's early life and how she learned to overcome her handicaps. After reading the play and seeing it produced by the Drama Class of U. T. M. B., the students were assigned projects on the play. Some of these were rather ingenious as the students did their best in producing them.

Drawings, depicting characters, scenes and other things related to the play were done by Carlie Lou Bolin, Danny Hales, Charles Sutherland, Steve Jones, Ronnie Burrow, Mike Campbell, Mike McClure, Ronnie Bennett and Mike Butts.

Incorporating the use of dolls in scenes was done by Brenda McBride, Margie Collier, Brenda Harrison, Buddy Myers and Danny Harrison, uddy Myers and Danny Hewitt.

Some other clever projects were: a model of the Broadway stage of "The Miracle Worker" by John Reed, a system of theatrical lighting by Dan Voegel, a pair of smoked glasses made with aluminum foil by Joyce Lee, and a desk with ink well, quill pen and crockery by Janie Noles and Harriet Hancock.

These projects were all on exhibition in the English room and were enjoyed by most students.

Tommy Lynn And James Hurt Are AD W. K. C. Football Players

Mr. Martin stands with Fulton High's all W. K. C. football players, James Hurt and Tommy Lynn.

"From The FHS Kennel"

Fulton High placed two seniors on the West Kentucky conference teams. Tommy Lynn, a five foot ten inch, one hundred and eighty pound guard, and James Hurt, a five foot ten inch, one hundred and seventy pound fullback, both made the W. K. C. Class AA team thereby making all W. K. C. players.

Tommy Lynn played left guard throughout the season and was a very valuable asset to the team. In eight games he made 47 tackles and had 23 assists. His outstanding game was at Newburn when he made eleven tackles, had eight assists, and intercepted a screen ball. Coach McCann stated that Tommy was the most improved lineman over last year and that he was quiet and consistent. He also said that Tommy was the type of boy every coach wanted on his team.

James Hurt was a very versatile player being able to play both in the line and in the backfield. During the season he gained 483 yards with an average of 4.9 yards per carry.

His outstanding game was with Obion when he gained 127 yards with an average of 12.7 yards per carry. Coach said that James was the most improved back over last year and was also consistent.

Tommy and James received their gold footballs at a banquet given for the football players. The coach also presented twenty-seven football letters, eighteen of which went to seniors. Eight boys received their bulldog emblems and were admitted to the bulldog club. Mr. Holland made a short speech before the presentations. Afterwards everybody went home to nurse a bad case of over-eating.

Bulldog Club Has 8 New Members

"From The FHS Kennel"

The highest honor which an athlete can have at Fulton High School is to be a member of the Bulldog Club. The club is an honorary association for boys who have lettered three times in one sport, twice in two different sports, once in three different sports in one year, or three times in a minor sport and once in a major one.

The club was first started in 1924, the first year Fulton High became a member of the W. K. C.

The Bulldog Club this year has eleven members. There members, Jimmy Yates, David Mann, and Wayne Lohaus are old members from last year. The new members are Marshall Burgess, Tom Bushart, Don Geen, Waymon Hancock, Ron Homra, Clay Piatt, James Turner, and Terry Willingham.

FHA Members Enjoy Annual Installation

"From The FHS Kennel"
The Future Homemakers of America Held its annual installation of new members November 20, in the Home Economics room. A Pot-luck supper was enjoyed by the members, four chapter mothers and our club advisor.

There were 21 freshman girls installed. They were dressed in man's pants with one leg rolled up and a man's tee-shirt. A red garter was worn above the knee with a red polkadot patch on the seat of the pants. Heavy make up was worn on the left side of the face and cold cream on the right. A man's old left shoe was worn on the right foot and a house shoe was worn on the left.

The girls performed clever stunts which were created by Brenda Downs, recreation leader, and her committee. These ranged from an imitation of Mrs. DeMyer to "frying" live bacon. A beauty contest was held crowning Miss Tacky of 1965.

The F. H. A. has held this annual installation for twenty-two years. The club was proud to welcome these girls as members of the F. H. A.

They are:
Carolyn Allen, Beverly Armstrong, Rita Craven, Susan Crittendon, Jessie Daniels, Glenda Downs, Roma Foster, Sheila Harrison, Cindy Homra, Gwen Lambert, Ann Lawson, Judy Merryman, Becky Mitchell, Genit Murray, Julie Powell, Melonie Puckett, Yinda Reed, and Shelby Rogers.

Bright Stockings Will Greet Santa On Modern Christmas Morn 1964

"From The FHS Keenel" Yes, FHS students everywhere will soon hang their stockings over marvelous old-fashioned fireplaces, and campfires, but those still doing this semester's chemistry experiments will have to be satisfied with bunsen burners flowers in the weave were all the rage. In places larger and more sophisticated than Fulton stockings of real white lace are worn. And even grandmother's thick flowered socks are worn every day through the thick snow in cities farther north.

This year Santa will be greeted with a wide variety of socks and stockings hung by his feminine followers. Fashion decrees that this is the year of ladies' patterned hose. Those backward males who expected to admire the remnants of a summer tan on their girlfriends' legs were taken by surprise. Suddenly there has appeared a wild array of bright plaid, diamond woven, and colorfully striped legs. Several of Fulton High's progressive young ladies have received puzzled, startled, and yes-even disapproving looks. Whatever men and boys may think patterned hose are in. A girl simply does not have all the necessities of life if she doesn't have a pair of unusual socks of stockings.

Many a grandmother has lately been reminded of her gay youth when black stockings with bright

The stockings were hung in the chem lab with care. In hopes that the bunsen burner soon wouldn't flare.

County FHA Group Initiates Freshmen Girls

The Fulton County Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held its December meeting in the gym of Fulton County High School on Thursday, December 10. The purpose of the meeting was to initiate the freshman girls into the club.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Linda Hawkins. First vice president, Sandra Cunningham, welcomed the freshman girls to the meeting. The purposes were said by the officers and a white candle lit for each. Second vice president, Paula Jones, explained the creed and the emblem. The girls were then sworn into the club and each received a red and white ribbon, symbolizing the colors of the organization.

Song leaders, Debbie Watson and Lois Robinson, led the group in singing Christmas carols while cookies and punch were served by Jean Everett, Pamela Mansfield, Judy Cagle, Doris Williams and May Ella Oliver.

First Group Camp Site Planned Near Hardin

The first group camp site in a State park in Western Kentucky is scheduled to be opened next June, at the former Cherokee State Park near Hardin.

Cherokee is being converted into a group camp site and will be operated as a part of Kenlake State Park beginning January 1, 1965.

State Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell said that 10 housekeeping cottages at Cherokee will be renovated to accommodate 150 group campers.

"This new facility will be especially adopted for use by such organizations as church groups for retreats, high school bands, boy Scouts, Future Farmers of America, and other similar groups."

"The Department of Parks presently operates group camp facilities and has for a number of years, at General Butler State Park in northern Kentucky near Carrollton; Carter Caves State Park in northeastern Kentucky, near Grayson; and Levi Jackson State Park in southeastern Kentucky, near London. These group camps are booked to capacity during the operating season," Bell said.

Group camp rates are 75c per person per day and the group campers provide their own supervisors, are responsible for their own recreation programs, and provide their own food service. Group campers furnish their own food and bring their own linens and blankets. Dishes, silverware, cooking utensils, beds and mattresses are furnished by the Department of Parks.

Former Cherokee State Park started in 1952 as a segregated park for Negroes. All Kentucky State parks are integrated after the 1954 Supreme Court decision banning racial discrimination in schools.

The new group camp site at Kenlake State Park already has a combination kitchen and dining room as well as a beach area and bathhouse on Kentucky Lake. The dining room will serve group campers as a meeting place, Bell said.

Murray Applies For Student Work Grant

Murray State College has applied for a $53,000 federal grant under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 to provide additional employment for students.

The grant would enable the college to employ an additional 300 students next semester, beginning in February. The college now employs 530 students.

If the grant is made, Murray State must put up an additional $7,000. The employment would be granted to students who are needy.
